

America is about diversity of opinion & freedom of speech. If one company owns the main media outlets in one area there will only be that companies pov. In the case of cable monopolies it will open up the citizens of that area to price gouging. There are countries that do survive with one pov--Afganistan is one. One of the reasons we are under attack now is because they want to manipulate the world to their ideology. Monopolized ownership is unAmerican--for the same reasons that our Founding Fathers eliminated the idea of kingly rule. There is no difference between a "divinely" chosen king and one allowed by the government.

When our citizen's freedom conflicts with business' freedom, the freedom of America's citizens must prevail. They are in the majority--R. Murdoch is only one.
